ABOUT DONOR-ADVISED FUNDS

A donor-advised fund (DAF) is a charitable giving account that is sponsored by a public charity, like HighGround Advisors, and funded by a donor's tax-deductible contributions of cash, stock, mutual funds or other assets. Contributions to a DAF are invested and have the potential to grow, tax-free, over time. Donors retain the right to recommend grants from their DAFs to eligible charities of their choice. For these reasons, a DAF is an excellent vehicle for donors who wish to maximize their charitable impact, give in a tax-advantageous way, and streamline the administration of their donations.

At HighGround, we like to say that a donor-advised fund allows donors to Give, Grow, & Grant:

1. GIVE

Donors make tax-deductible contributions to their donor-advised funds.

2. GROW

Contributions are invested and have the potential to grow, tax-free.

3. GRANT

At any time, donors recommend grants from their donor-advised funds to the qualified, U.S. charities of their choice.

*Although the majority of assets are covered by this policy, investments in third-party commingled funds, mutual funds or private investment funds may be permitted, in which case investments are governed by the third-party fund's investment guidelines. Such third-party guidelines may or may not be consistent with HighGround Advisors' social policy or other investment policies and guidelines for the Fund.

SUCCESSION PLAN

HighGround requires each donor-advised fund to have a succession plan in place, to be activated upon the death or incapacity of the last remaining Donor Advisor. Donor Advisors may name up to four Successor Advisors to assume fund advisory privileges and/or up to four Charitable Beneficiaries to receive final distributions from the fund. The combined percentages designated to all succession options must equal 100%.

If a Donor Advisor names Successor Advisors, the donor will then need to either:

- Select that the Successors Advisors are to manage the existing DAF or
- Allocate the percentage of the remaining balance to be used to open a new DAF for each Successor Advisor

Alternatively, Donor Advisors may establish a permanent endowment with the remaining balance of the fund to benefit up to four charities with monthly income distributions. At the death of the last remaining Donor Advisor, a minimum fund balance of $25,000 is required to establish the endowment.

Donor Advisors should regularly review their fund information to ensure it is up to date. Succession plans may be modified at any time.

Note: If no succession strategy is in place at the last remaining Donor Advisor's death, HighGround Advisors will distribute all remaining assets outright to charitable organizations that reflect the interests and concerns of the Donor Advisors, as indicated by recommendations and written communication during their lifetime.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Charitable organizations that serve as donor-advised fund sponsors, like HighGround, are required by the Internal Revenue Code to maintain legal control over all contributions. For this reason, all contributions, once reviewed and accepted into a DAF, represent an irrevocable gift. As such and as required by law, donors relinquish legal control over the contributed assets, meaning donors may not attach conditions to such assets and may not attempt to transfer, appoint, or otherwise utilize such assets for personal or non-charitable purposes.

How to make a contribution?

A minimum contribution of $1,000 is required for an individual to open a donor-advised fund. Contributions may be initiated online at the time the fund is established and additional contributions can be made easily through the online DAF portal. The owner(s) of the assets must transfer the assets to HighGround Advisors using the instructions provided on the following pages.

Processing times for contributions vary based upon the asset type. Contributions made by check are generally deposited on the day they are received by HighGround Advisors, and trades are made in the investment fund(s) the following business day. If received prior to 11:00 am CST, contributions by wire are generally credited to the DAF that day and trades made accordingly. The timeframes noted assume receipt of all necessary documentation in good order from the contributor.

Contribution Types

HighGround may review contributions to a donor-advised fund prior to accepting them. Generally, HighGround will accept contributions to donor-advised funds in the form of cash equivalents (physical check, wire, ACH or credit card), securities or mutual funds, and stock certificates held personally. Other contributions, such as real estate, oil and gas mineral interests, life insurance, tangible personal property, restricted stock and closely-held business interests, may only be accepted after a more thorough review by HighGround. If HighGround determines that a contribution will not be accepted, the donor will be notified.

- Publicly Traded Securities & Mutual Funds
Publicly traded securities and mutual funds may be contributed to a donor-advised fund. A Donor Advisor may indicate the securities or mutual funds being contributed on the online application, but the contribution will not be initiated until the Donor Advisor contacts their broker to transfer the assets using the instructions noted in the table above and on the following page.
- Other Noncash Assets
If a Donor Advisor wishes to contribute stock certificates held personally or other noncash assets, such as real estate, mineral interests, life insurance policies, or closely-held business interests, please contact HighGround at 1.800.747.5564 for assistance.

Asset Liquidation

Once assets have been accepted and received, it is HighGround's policy to liquidate the assets immediately and invest the net proceeds into the investment fund(s) requested by the Donor Advisor for their DAF. Though HighGround will attempt to liquidate contributed assets immediately, the actual timeframe for liquidation may vary depending on the feasibility of liquidation at a given time.

Contribution Costs & Expenses

Contributions of securities may be subject to a standard brokerage fee or commission, and contributions made by credit card will incur a standard processing fee. Donors may opt to gross up their contribution to cover this additional expense. All costs and expenses incurred to receive a contribution will be assessed against the DAF to which the contribution was made. Contributions of other types of noncash assets (e.g., real estate) may be subject to other expenses. HighGround will discuss any potential expenses for accepting and/or liquidating contributions of complex assets with donors prior to accepting such a contribution.

Additional Contributions to Your Donor-Advised Fund

After making an initial contribution to open a DAF, additional contributions can be made at any time. Additional contributions will be invested according to the DAF's current investment selections, unless the Donor Advisor instructs otherwise.

Third-Party Contributions

In addition to Donor Advisors, friends and family can make tax-deductible contributions to a DAF for birthdays, anniversaries and memorials. Third-party contributions can be made online at highgroundadvisors.org/make-a-third-party-contribution.

Note: Third-party contributors have no advisory privileges with respect to their contributions and may not recommend investment allocations or grants.

Approval & Confirmation of Contributions

Following review and acceptance of contributions, HighGround Advisors will provide written confirmation of each contribution to the contributor. The information contained on the confirmation will include the date the contribution was made and a description of the asset or security name. For gifts of cash, the amount of the contribution will be included in the acknowledgment.

Contributions Rejected or Disallowed

HighGround Advisors reserves the right to reject any contribution. Should HighGround determine contributed assets are unacceptable, they will be returned to the Donor Advisor.

Income Tax Considerations & Tax Forms

HighGround does not provide legal or tax advice to individuals, including Donor Advisors, but will provide more general information to assist the donor in decision-making, such as requirements for a gift to be tax-deductible, charitable deduction limits based on the donor's adjusted gross income, tax forms that may be required, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requirements for a qualified appraisal, and other pertinent information, such as projected tax implications of the gift being considered.

Please keep in mind the following general tax considerations:

- Donor Advisors who contribute appreciated assets held for more than a year generate a larger tax benefit than when contributing those assets held for a shorter period of time.
- Certain noncash assets being contributed require that you obtain an appraisal by a qualified appraiser.
- Once assets are contributed to a donor-advised fund, any subsequent income or capital gains generated by those assets belong to the DAF and, therefore, do not qualify as a deductible contribution for you.

HighGround suggests that you visit with your accountant or tax advisor to receive specific information on assets being contributed to a donor-advised fund.

The IRS has certain requirements regarding the assets being contributed to a donor-advised fund. The table below summarizes the contribution valuation provided by HighGround and other high-level requirements for assets that are used to fund a donor-advised fund.

INVESTMENT FUND OPTIONS

HighGround Advisors offers professionally managed, proprietary multi asset class investment options for donor-advised funds as well as single asset class funds to create a customized investment strategy. You may choose the investment funds that align with your risk tolerance and expected giving time horizon, whether immediate or long-term. The percentages allocated to these investment options must total 100%. Actual asset allocation may vary from your current asset allocation due to market fluctuations and account activity.

Each investment fund’s market value will be calculated daily and uploaded to your online DAF portal. Additionally, daily trading for each of these investment funds will be performed to invest contributions and to ensure sufficient dollars are available to fund grant requests. At the close of business each day, uninvested cash balances will be swept into the HighGround Enhanced Cash Fund. However, these funds are always accessible when you request a longer-term investment option.

FEES & EXPENSES

ADMINISTRATIVE FEE

Most sponsoring organizations of DAFs charge an administrative fee on the market value of a donor-advised fund to cover expenses for tax receipt preparation, compliance, and the processing of contributions and grant recommendations. To maximize the charitable impact of your contributions, HighGround does not charge an administrative fee on our donor-advised funds. This means more dollars will go directly to the charities you choose to support with your DAF.

INVESTMENT EXPENSES

Each investment fund option bears the cost of investment management, which is deducted directly from the daily net asset value of the investment fund. These costs are expressed as an expense ratio. Expense ratios are subject to change due to market fluctuations and changes in asset levels. The expense ratio for each investment fund option will be published quarterly, and the most current expense ratio is included below.

GRANT RECOMMENDATIONS

Donor Advisors and any authorized Additional Users may recommend how funds are to be granted to IRS-recognized 501(c)(3) charities through the online DAF portal. Any grant recommendation made must equal $100.00 or more to any one charity. To assist with identifying IRS-recognized charities, all current HighGround clients have been pre-populated within the Organization Name field under the Grant tab on the DAF portal. Donor Advisors and Authorized Users may also search the GuideStar database, which offers the most complete, up-to-date nonprofit data available. A direct link to GuideStar appears in the Organization Name field once the beginning of a charity name has been entered.

All grant recommendations will be subject to HighGround's grant review and approval policy. This process ensures that all grants are made in accordance with IRS guidelines for grants from donor-advised funds and, further, that they align with HighGround's mission and purpose. Grant recommendations to organizations whose activities or tax-exempt purposes are inconsistent with HighGround's governing documents will not be approved.

Typically, grant recommendations will be reviewed and distributed within three business days, assuming all requirements are met. Any exceptions or questions that arise from the review will be resolved prior to the grant being approved and processed.

If the DAF is invested in more than one investment option, grant recommendations will come from the investment fund with the shortest expected giving time horizon first. When a Donor Advisor establishes recurring grants, a portion of their DAF balance may be kept in the Enhanced Cash Fund so that money is immediately available for those recurring grants.

Can I transfer money I have in a DAF with a different sponsoring organization to a DAF with HighGround?

Yes. While it is ultimately up to the sponsoring organization of your existing donor-advised fund, in most cases, you can transfer all or a portion of your funds to HighGround. If you would like to do so, please call Katie Hancock, our Director of Philanthropic Engagement & Strategy, at 214.978.3303, and she will walk you through the simple process.

Note: Since you received a tax deduction when you originally made the contribution to your existing DAF you will not receive another after the transfer.

GRANT PURPOSE RESTRICTIONS

The Pension Protection Act of 2006 deems the following purposes impermissible:

- Salary or Tuition—Grants cannot be used for individual scholarships or to pay private school or college tuition.
- Contributions to Individuals—Grants to individuals are not allowed. Grants must go to a qualified 501(c)(3) charity.
- Quid Pro Quo Benefits—Donors may not receive personal benefit (including goods and services) from grants.
- Bifurcated Grants—Grants cannot be used to pay any portion of a donation split into tax deductible and non-tax deductible portions.

According to Section 4 of IRS Notice 2017-73, DAF grants can fulfill enforceable pledges, with restrictions. Contact the Director of Philanthropic Engagement & Strategy for more information.

COMMUNICATION FOR APPROVED GRANTS

Grant distributions are typically made on HighGround-branded checks and are accompanied with a letter that contains certain information about the Donor Advisor who recommended the grant. The online DAF portal provides Donor Advisors with the ability to choose whether they would like their contact information released to the selected charity or if they wish to remain anonymous. The contact information provided to the charity will include the Donor Advisor's name, the DAF name (e.g., "Smith Family Fund") and an address, unless the Donor Advisor specifies a different preference within the Notes section of the grant recommendation.

HighGround recognizes that many Donor Advisors may regularly communicate with charities supported by their DAF. However, Donor Advisors are not to:

- Attempt to modify the purpose of a grant after it has been distributed from a DAF,
- Attempt to exert control over the grants made from a DAF, or
- Attempt to divert the grant to an improper purpose.

Each time a grant recommendation is approved and distributed or rejected, the Donor Advisor will be notified.

ADDITIONAL TERMS & GUIDANCE

- ONLINE PORTAL: Donor Advisors and Additional Users can manage the DAF online, whether initiating contributions, selecting investment funds or recommending grants. Additional DAF information is available on the online portal, such as:

 - Annual statements which summarize contributions and grants made during a calendar year as well as the ending market values of the investments held
- DAF STATEMENTS: Your DAF statements will be generated and made available electronically on the online DAF portal within three to five business days after the close of each calendar quarter and calendar year. For any special requests regarding donor-advised fund statements, please call 1.800.747.5564 or email dafs@highgroundadvisors.org. Statements include:
 - DAF balance
 - Changes in DAF value
 - List of holdings with current market values
 - DAF activity, including transaction detail for contributions, grant distributions and investment funds
- DAFS WITH NO ACTIVITY: After a period of four years, if a DAF has no activity, HighGround will attempt to contact the Donor Advisors to inquire about their intentions regarding the DAF. Should contact attempts fail, HighGround reserves the right to take the following actions:
 - Inactive DAFs with balances of $10,000 or less—
HighGround will enact the DAF succession plan. If this plan does not direct grants to a qualified public charity or charities, the funds will be distributed in accordance with the last giving recommendation.
 - Inactive DAFs with balances of $10,000 or more—
HighGround will issue a grant in the amount equal to 5% of the DAF balance to the last known grant recipient on file annually, unless the succession plan includes establishing an endowment account.

If an endowment account is named as the ultimate successor, then HighGround will proceed with the set-up of the endowment account on behalf of the Donor Advisor. The DAF will then be closed.
- CONFLICT OF TERMS: HighGround Advisors has taken care to ensure that all materials concerning the DAF Program displayed on the website, including the application, forms and the DAF Program Guide, contain consistent terms and information. In the event of any inconsistency between materials, HighGround reserves the right to make corrections.
- ERRORS & DISCREPANCIES: HighGround Advisors exercises care and due diligence in the administration of the Donor-Advised Fund Program. Donor Advisors are responsible for monitoring and reviewing information included on statements and other communications. Should a Donor Advisor discover any errors, omissions or other discrepancies relating to a fund, they are directed to contact HighGround Advisors at 1.800.747.5564 or dafs@highgroundadvisors.org immediately after the communication containing the error is sent or made available. The absence of such notification within 90 days by a Donor Advisor indicates the agreement of all parties that all account activity and information is correct for all purposes.
- GENERAL TERMS: Donor-advised funds are subject to the terms and conditions of this Program Guide. HighGround Advisors reserves the right to modify these at any time without any notice.
- GOVERNING LAW: The HighGround Advisors Donor-Advised Fund Program Guide and any materials, forms or agreements executed by a Donor Advisor shall be governed by Texas law and federal tax law. This includes all contribution agreements, applications and instruction forms deemed to be entered in the State of Texas.

All contributions and investments are intended to be administered and managed in the State of Texas.

HighGround Advisors has contacted the 38 states and the District of Columbia that require registration or confirmation that HighGround is exempt from registration for solicitation of charitable contributions. All contributions received by HighGround Advisors are to be administered and managed in the State of Texas.
- GRANTS TO INTERNATIONAL NONPROFIT CAUSES: HighGround Advisors will only approve grants to qualified organizations that are tax-exempt under U.S. law. At this time, HighGround is unable to approve grants to international nonprofit organizations. Grants are allowed to U.S.-based charities providing international services and programs.

- LOW & ZERO BALANCE ACCOUNTS: On a quarterly basis, HighGround Advisors will review accounts that have a low and/or zero balance. If there has been no activity in a DAF in the form of contributions or grant recommendations for more than one year and the DAF has a balance of less than $250.00, HighGround will attempt to contact Donor Advisors to inquire about their intentions regarding the DAF. Should contact attempts fail, HighGround reserves the right to close the DAF. HighGround will send a formal notification to the address on file for the DAF and then transfer any remaining balance to the HighGround Operating Fund prior to closing the account on the system.
- UNCASHED OR LOST GRANT CHECKS: If HighGround's records indicate that a grant check has not been deposited or cashed by the receiving organization within 90 days of the issue date, HighGround will attempt to contact the receiving charity to inquire about the status of the check. If appropriate, HighGround will initiate a stop-payment order on the check and forward a new check with a revised grant letter. If HighGround is unable to contact the receiving organization or is otherwise unable to find resolution for an uncashed check, HighGround will initiate a stop-payment order on the check and redeposit the amount into the fund.
- WEB ACCESS: HighGround Advisors offers secure online access for the Donor-Advised Fund Program. Use of the website may require you to provide certain personal details and other information. Prior to using the website, you will be asked to read and acknowledge our website Terms & Conditions Policy. Donor Advisors and Additional Users can manage their DAFs online, whether initiating contributions, selecting investment funds or recommending grants.
- WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY: HighGround employs a Code of Ethics Policy to ensure that its business practices reflect the organization's commitment to honesty, integrity and transparency. In keeping with this commitment, HighGround maintains an internal Whistleblower Policy to encourage and enable HighGround directors, officers and employees to raise concerns regarding suspected illegal or unethical conduct or practices or violations of HighGround's policies.
